ATHS COMMENCEMENT JUNE 5

High School Project Near Bidding Stage

Plans for Antioch Township High School's $995,000 addition will be ready for bidding approximately July 1, it was announced this week by Gilbert A. Johnson, Rockford, Ill., architect and engineer.

To be bid will be (1) proposed two-story classroom building to be located in front of the present high school building facing South Main St., (2) an all-purpose room including locker room space for physical education and an enlarged band room, (3) new boiler room, and (4) certain remodeling to the present high school.

The new addition which will boost high school capacity to 1100 will contain a library, science department, English classroom, social science and foreign language classrooms, cafeteria and kitchen, and bus loading facilities.

Basic construction will be concrete framing with concrete walls and brick veneer. Interior walls will be of concrete block and glazed tile. Ceilings will be of acoustical tile, floors—concrete and glazed tile, terrazzo in corridors and ceramic tile in rest rooms.

Windows will be of glass block with clear vision strip in aluminum sash. Lighting will be fluorescent fixtures.

Roof will be flat, built up pitch and gravel over a steel deck with plastic bubble skylights over second floor corridors.

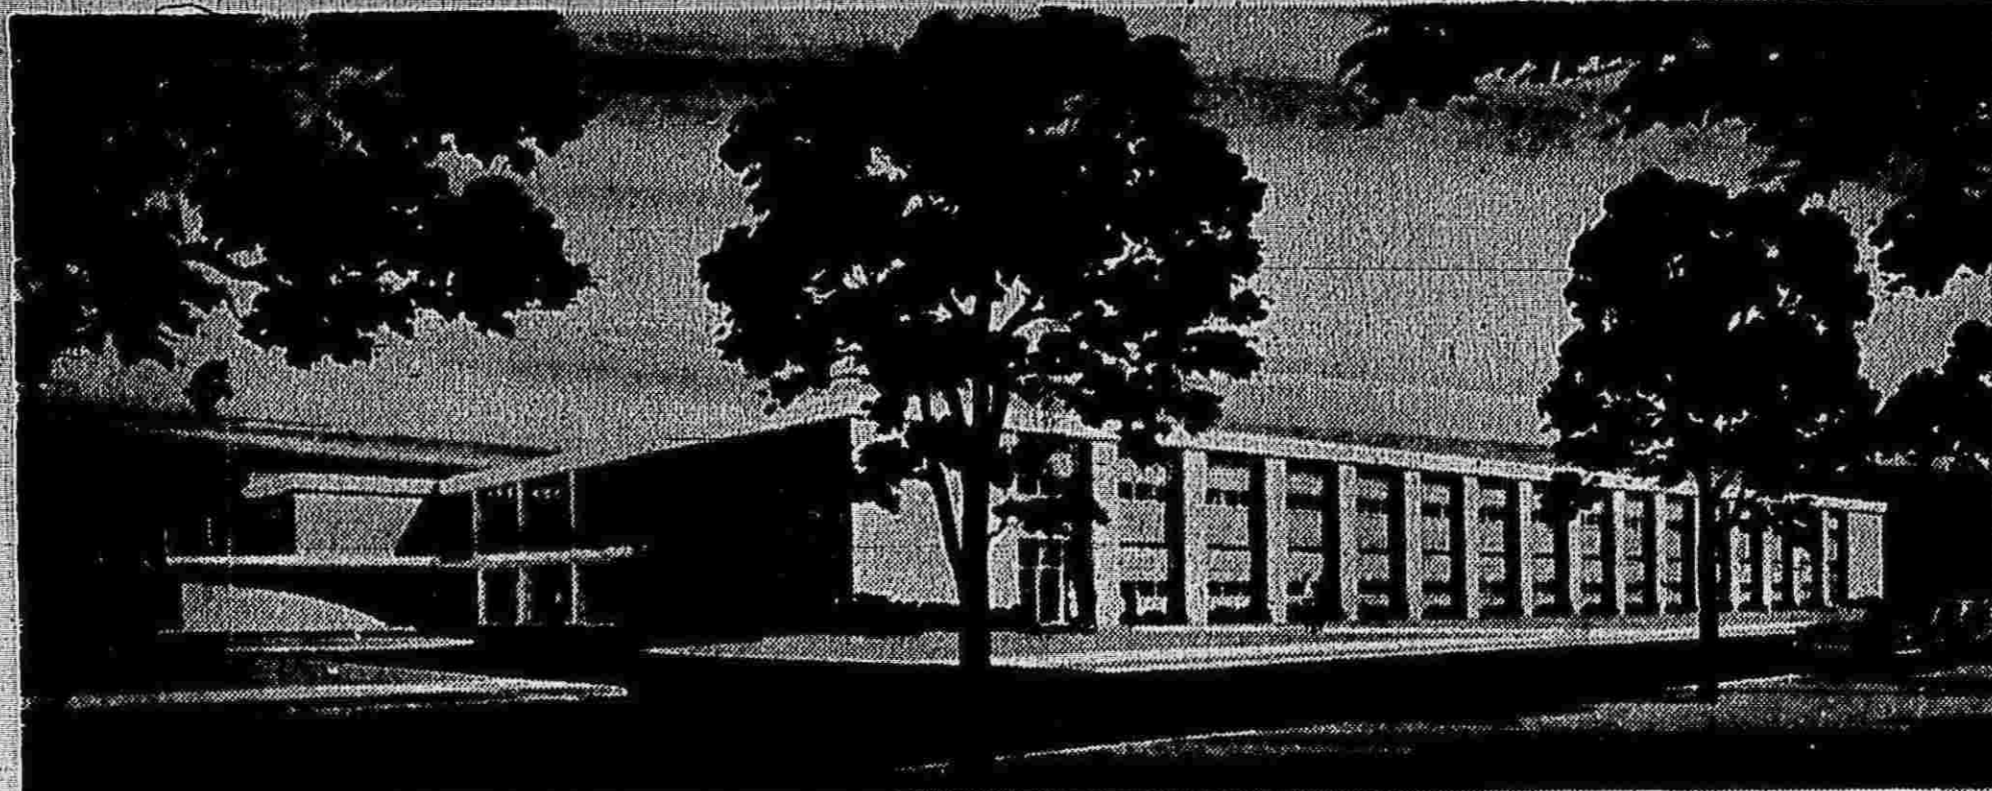

Heating will be steam boiler type, with split system with central fan ventilation.

District 117 voters made the addition and remodeling possible through passage of the near-million-dollar referendum last February.

The new addition will contain approximately 58,000 square feet of floor space.

According to school planners, the addition and remodeling will take care of estimated school population growth until the 1968-69 period.

Construction is expected to get under way as soon as bids are awarded.

ARCHITECT'S conception of the new two-story, $995,000 addition to Antioch Township High School, on which construction will start this summer. View is from South Main St. Basic structure will be brick masonry, and will contain approximately 58,000 square feet of floor space.

Schedule Trial in Fall for Girl 17, Facing Homicide Charge

Miss Merry Colleen Mortensen, 17, charged with reckless homicide in the auto crash death of a Chicago Girl Scout leader, will come to trial next fall, according to action taken last week in Kenosha.

Miss Mortensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mortensen, was bound over to the Kenosha County Circuit Court by Municipal Judge Harry V. Carlson after a preliminary hearing, and was released on $1,000 bond.

Miss Mortensen is charged with causing the death of Winnifred Hertzler, 35, of Chicago, in an accident in which six persons were injured.

The crash occurred Oct. 9, at Rt. 83 and Rock Lake Road. The girl was driving west on Rock Lake Road, and Miss Hertzler was driving south on Rt. 83, taking a group of Girl Scouts back to Chicago after an outing in Wisconsin.

Miss Mortensen failed to see a stop sign at the intersection until too late to avoid a collision.

She entered a plea of innocent before Judge Carlson last March.

Girl, 11 Third In Nationwide Color Contest

Sylvia King

Sylvia King, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson King, 993 Spafford St., won third prize in a nationwide coloring contest, it was announced today by Al and Bob Pedersen of Pedersen Bros., local implement firm.

The contest, open to children 6 to 12, involved coloring an eight-page reproduction of an advertisement depicting a parade of some 24 farm machines and implements.

Awarded were a trip to Disneyland, first prize; transistor radios to 10 second-place winners; 25 gyromatic globes of the world to third place winners; and 165 Better Homes & Gardens Junior cook books and story books, for fourth place.

The contest was sponsored jointly by Massey-Ferguson, Inc., represented locally by Pedersen Bros., and Successful Farming magazine.

Grant Student Flies to Gotham In Type Finals

Bruce Matas, Grant High School student, is the winner in the National Finals of the Facit Accuracy contest in typing, according to word received today. As winner, Bruce will receive an all-expense paid trip to Sweden.

Bruce Matas flew to New York by jet Friday where he competed in the National Finals of the Facit Accuracy contest in typing. This contest sponsored by Facit, Inc., distributors of Facit typewriters initially involved over 250,000 participating students.

One of the important features and a unique aspect of this contest is the premium placed on accuracy or errorless copy rather than on speed alone.

The Welcome and Get Acquainted dinner upon arrival and a celebration luncheon following the contest are highlights of the events that are on tap for these talented typists.

The winner will receive the grand prize of an all-expense paid trip to Sweden.

W. J. Murphy

Murphy for Treasurer?

State Rep. W. J. Murphy (R-Antioch) for state treasurer in 1962?

It's a possibility, according to rumors currently making the Republican rounds in the state capitol. Lending credence to reports is the fact that Rep. Murphy is expected to be at the head table at a dinner June 14, sponsored by House Speaker Paul Powell (D-Vienna), for all House members.

The treasurer's post will be up for grabs in 1962 because Joseph Lohman, now state treasurer, has announced he will resign to take over the Criminology Department at the University of California.

The interim appointment to replace Lohman would be made by Gov. Otto Kerner, a Democrat.

Murphy has made no announcement concerning future plans and is not reported in line for an interim state treasurer appointment.

Rep. Murphy, irked by remarks of several columnists and a recent editorial in The Antioch News, makes a few tart observations. See Page 2 for what Rep. Murphy has to say.

County Civic League

Dwight Ingram, Lake Forest, was elected president of the Lake County Civic League at the annual members meeting last Thursday in Waukegan.

Highlight of the evening was an address by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter.

CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL planners have reached back 100 years for authenticity in preparing for the three-day observance, June 23-25. Here, Charles Bruhn has donned a Union blouse worn by a member of the New Hampshire Regiment during the conflict. He attaches a bayonet to the barrel of a Springfield muzzle loader as Dr. J. W. Kopriva and Mrs. Edmond Hood observe.

Aunt Lyd, 93, Dies; Pioneer Known to All

Mrs. Lydia E. Horton, fondly known to all throughout the area as "Aunt Lyd", died at 11:10 p.m. Tuesday at the home of her son, Earl on North Ave., where she had made her home for many years.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow from Strang's Funeral Home. The body will lie in state after 1:30 p.m. today (Thursday) when friends may pay last respects.

A pioneer of Antioch Township, "Aunt Lyd" had lived here all of her 93 years, 7 months and 28 days, and was born Oct. 2, 1867 in a log cabin on the Herman farm, just one mile from her last home.

"Aunt Lyd" was a familiar figure in the area and had remained active at her hobby of rug weaving until two weeks ago. She had adopted the hobby in the early 1900's and her work was widely admired. She was also active in the Hillside Cemetery Association at the turn of the century.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Murry, who died April 12, 1943. He had served as custodian at Antioch Township High School for 19 years.

In addition to son Earl, the deceased is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Evah (Emil) Risch, of Antioch, six grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Wallace Anderson will officiate at funeral services tomorrow. Interment will be in Hillside Cemetery, Antioch.

Police Nab Jailbreakers Near Antioch

Two of three prisoners who escaped from Lake County jail early Friday were captured about 9 p.m. in a field between Antioch and the east shore of Lake Catherine.

Captured near Antioch were John Camillo, 17, 37 Park Ave., Antioch, and Charles Pacholsky, 18, 1229 Maplewood Ave., Chicago.

A third escapee, Allen Hudson, alias Gilbert Fluke, 40, of 1495 E. Market St., Akron, Ohio, was captured hours later in the Point and Setter Tavern near Waukegan.

Antioch Police Chief Walter Scott spotted the pair Friday evening and called for assistance in rounding them up. Squad cars and a sheriff's plane, closed in on the two and made the capture.

Chief Deputy Charles Larson said the prisoners sawed their way out with a hacksaw blade apparently smuggled in during visiting hours. This allowed them to move from their cells to the "bull pen." Here they sawed one bar and bent another, making an opening large enough to gain access to a corridor. Following the corridor they sawed through a window and were able to move to the outside.

Alvin Waldron, Round Lake, visited the jail Friday. He told Larson that he had driven Pacholsky and Camillo to near the Antioch Grade School where he let them out.

Camillo is being held on a charge of armed robbery with the next hearing in his case set for June 5. He has been in jail since March 4.

Pacholsky has been in jail since April 30 on charges of burglary. Hudson, 1495 E. Market St., Akron, Ohio, is being held for Ohio authorities on a forgery charge.

County to Host National Stock Show on June 6

Lake County will host one of the nation's leading livestock events June 6 at the Lake County Fairgrounds, Grayslake. On that day the National Shorthorn Show and Sale will be held, according to C. D. Swaffar, executive-secretary, American Shorthorn Association, Omaha, Neb. Twenty-five breeders from seven states and Ontario will offer 65 head for sale and show.

The National Show will get under way at 8:30 a.m. with Harold Thiemann, nationally recognized judge and Polled Shorthorn breeder from Concordia, Mo., placing the classes. Trophies and ribbons will be awarded by Virginia Bohlen, Illinois Shorthorn Lassie Queen, Moweaqua.

The sale will start at 12 noon (DST) with Dick Kane, of Winer, Neb., Don Smock of Whiteland, Ind., and Forrest Grunwald, of Wauconda, as auctioneers.

The sale offering will include the 1960 International grand champion bull; several bulls imported from Scotland, and numerous prize-winning bulls and females at district and state fairs.

For many years Lake County played host to the nation's foremost Shorthorn breeders on the first Monday and Tuesday in June, at which time the great Edellyn herd of Thomas E. Wilson and Marellbar herd of William Bartholmay, Libertyville, held their annual sales. This show and sale has been inaugurated to carry on the tradition established by those herds.

Tax and Spend — Spend and Tax

"We'll tax and spend — spend and tax."

Those words have a familiar ring?

It was the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt who made this tragic statement to one of his palace guard — the late Harry Hopkins.

This statement has seemingly become the battlecry of the Democrat party.

President Kennedy gave us a touch of this philosophy last week when he called upon one and all to give and give some more in outlining his worldwide programs ranging from teacher education to more clothing for the hottentots. His program spells billions upon billions.

Gov. Otto Kerner, a man of integrity and proved ability who really should know better, has been slightly more sophisticated in his approach of late. But he too has been bitten with the bug.

Gov. Kerner paints the spectre of state bankruptcy for the State of Illinois unless more revenue is forthcoming for state coffers. His immediate proposal is to increase the sales tax to 4 percent — which, if adopted, would make it the highest in the nation.

Now if a 4 percent sales tax would solve the State's financial ills, we would be all for it.

"Here's your 4 percent. Pay those bills and stay within your income."

But it never seems to work that way. Give a person more income, more wherewithall and the ability to spend, and he'll do just that.

It's just human nature to compromise thrift when there is more money in the till — whether it be governors or housewives.

And we can't forget the historic statement of that Democrat power and stalwart, Paul Powell of Vienna, who, sniffing a party victory some years back, roared, "Ah kin smell the meat cookin'."

Paul was thinking of the pork barrel of patronage which would fall his party's way with the victory, and he was all plans on how to dish out the gravy.

With that sort of thinking guiding his party, Gov. Kerner, as well-intentioned and honorable as he may be, doesn't stand a chance. His would be but a finger in the dike.

Old buddy Dick Daley of Chicago has cried long and loud for a city sales tax of one-half percent, to add to the proposed four percent. How long before those old familiar scare cries again rent the skies.

"We need more revenue — raise the sales tax."

Too, there are always pleasant thoughts of a state income tax. But that will come later.

We say, "No additional revenue until you've proved your ability to spend what you have wisely and well."

Mr. Smith Comes to Antioch

Antioch today reeled under its second major attack within the week.

After slowly emerging from a grievous blow struck by the younger of the Kennedys anent alleged gambling in the Village, citizens barely had time to rise from the floor when they were slapped across the face a second time by a wet editorial wielded by John Justin Smith, the Daily News columnist being groomed to retain the wide following developed by the now-departed Jack Mabley.

And Mr. Smith faces problems of readership in the near future if he continues to reach way out — as he has so obviously done in his recent column — for hard-hitting material in the Mabley tradition.

In his column, Mr. Smith asks — "How can it be that the good people of Antioch are planning to celebrate the Civil War Centennial? You just don't celebrate such a thing. You may observe or commemorate it. But you never, never celebrate such a calamity etc."

Mr. Smith recommends that Antioch tame down the whole affair, evidently objecting to what he terms such attractions as dancing, band concerts, a beard-growing contest, swimming contests and what-not.

Dr. James W. Kopriva, chairman of the Centennial Committee, in a letter to the Daily News reprinted elsewhere on this page, calls Mr. Smith's attention to several pertinent facts.

Also of interest, as reported by Mr. Smith in his column slapping local wrists for their handling of the forthcoming Centennial observation, some 100,000 dogs drop about 4,320 tons of dirt in Chicago each year.

And that's a whale of a lot of dirt.

Representative Murphy Speaks Up

Rep. W. J. Murphy

As Representative from this District and especially from Western Lake County, I follow with special interest the opinions expressed editorially and as news releases in our papers by reporters, and also by Colleagues that serve in the General Assembly with me.

The "Page of Opinion" in The Antioch News always has close scrutiny because it has articles weekly from a Democrat Socialist, Rep. Paul Simon; a Republican Liberal, Senator Robert McClory; and a reporter or writer of doubtful leanings, named Lou Durkin. This plus the editorials make me feel compelled to make some comments.

Senator McClory basking in the "Privacy Club of the Senate" seems entirely unaware of Republican policy in Springfield. I quote from his article in The Antioch News of May 18th, "It's about time for the Republican loyal opposition in Springfield to decide what it stands for." Senator McClory who was a "rubber stamp" for Governor Stratton and also for Secretary Carpenter, seems to think that unless orders come from the badly defeated Governor and/or Secretary of State Carpenter, that there is no policy, and hence he is lost.

I have news for the Senator! There is a Republican policy-making group in Springfield that has made policy—they do have a program, and he would do well to heed it. This is our program—not only as the "loyal opposition" but as the party that is concerned with the welfare of the people, of the State and concerned with responsibility in government.

The Republican party is on record as in complete opposition to an increase in State Sales Tax and/or City Sales Tax. They are in opposition to diversion and/or increase in the gas tax to subsidize the CTA and the North Shore. They have a committee known as the House Economy Committee that scans all expenditures and prepares and offers amendments to cut the fat out of every appropriation measure to MAKE the State live within its income.

On the responsibility side they have agreed to support the broadening bills on the Sales Tax, are backing a measure to force all segments of our society to pay sales tax on purchases. These two items alone will bring almost $200 million more per biennium into the State's revenue. They have brought to attention the fact that the State under only four months of Democrat leadership have added 2000 additional employees, yet preaching a program of "Spartan Economy."

Briefly, the Republican program says "provide the revenue for the essentials, cut out the 'fat', give the people of the State efficiency and economy in government, they cannot and should not have more tax increases!"

This certainly sounds like a sound and sane policy to me.

Now as to some of Representative Paul Simon's statements.

Mr. Simon, I have no doubt, is a very sincere legislator and writes some very good columns, but then votes contrary to what he expresses in his column. In his column in the Antioch News on the 18th of May, he states that "citizens cannot and must not expect the law by itself to elevate public conduct." He implies that there is a bill in the legislature to legalize bingo—there is NO such bill in the legislature! He says "If statewide sentiment were strongly in favor of legalizing bingo I might feel that the best way to control it would be some form of legalizing it." Yet the very piece of legislation on this question in the legislature, which he says he will oppose, is a resolution to give the people state wide a vote to express their sentiment on the question. How are we to know otherwise what their sentiment is?

I am not personally in favor of legalizing bingo—I am only in favor of letting the people express their sentiment on it, and willing to abide by the majority. I am sick of seeing the law flouted by the playing of bingo when it is now definitely illegal. I dislike seeing legislators and others talk out of both sides of their mouth!

Mr. Lou Durkin, the author of Courthouse Notebook in The Antioch News, is now praising the County Board for appointing a finance director and beating the drums for creating a new office of County Public Works and Building to "plan and develop area-wide flood control and sanitation facilities"—with the power to levy tax!

This under the guise of saving the tax payer money. Actually, every newly created office, every appointment of a new planning commission, every new title, costs the home owner more and more taxes. I am not against progress, but this "Utopia" dreaming—this creating of a garden of paradise for all of us, is placing a tax burden on the people they just cannot pay. This same type of planning by the same type of reform groups and so called "do-gooders" is the very reason the State has now a budget calling for three billions of dollars—an increasing demand in sight. Now 12 years and no relief from this increasing demand in sight. Now doing it on a County scale is going to skyrocket the cost of county government to a point that no one can afford to own a home and in fact it is actually jeopardizing our very freedom.

I respectfully call attention to your editorial also in May 18th Antioch News, wherein you favor replacing the "outdated" revenue article and I quote "uncover new revenue producing sources." I ask you, who would pay for the new sources? The answer is very simple, once again, the people! I insist the people cannot pay any more than they are paying.

The only reason there is a cry for a new revenue article is, as you say, to raise more revenue. Instead, my answer is that we must, and soon, put a limit on what the State can spend—put a limit on the services the State should supply to the people.

I submit, whether it brings criticism or not—a ceiling of $300 per person in the State of Illinois should be the most the State could spend in a two year period. This would give you about $3 billion, our present budget, and then force the State by law to limit their services to live within this budget. Better than 50% of this amount could be raised by legalized Sunday racing with all proceeds going to State revenue, legalizing pari-mutual betting on bookies, legalizing dog racing, and yes, legalizing bingo with a percentage going to the State.

This then could wipe out sales tax on a loaf of bread and a bottle of milk, and keep socialism from taking over our County, our State and our Federal Government.

I am no hoodlum, I have a good decent God-fearing family, but I still like the freedoms I have known, and I want my boys to have the same freedom. The joy of home ownership and without holding the line on taxes—this thrill they will never have.

Respectfully submitted,
W. J. Murphy,
Your Republican State Representative

Letters to The Editor

Dear Sir:

The matter of Congressional redistricting is coming to a head. In the next few weeks the State Legislature will create 24 new districts out of the present 25 districts that Illinois now has.

I hope that in response to my suggestions that the voters of the present 13th Congressional District have informed their State Representatives and State Senators of the need for two new districts to be formed out of the present 13th District.

One district to be composed of Lake County and New Trier and Evanston Townships of Cook County and the other district to be composed of the other 10½ townships that now form part of the 13th District. This is needed because the population of the 13th district is now more than 900,000 and the average population of the new districts that are going to be formed will be 420,000.

So if you haven't as yet written, be sure to write your State Representatives and your State Senator and tell them that you are concerned with getting fair representation in Washington. Tell them that redistricting should not be a partisan affair. Tell them that the new Congressional Districts should each contain about 420,000 people and that gerrymandering by the political parties should not be permitted by the present State Legislature.

Laurence A. Kusek
Executive Director
Committee to Re-district
13th Congressional District

A Letter to Justin Smith

May 28, 1961

The Editor,
The Chicago Daily News
Chicago, Illinois
Dear Sir,

John Justin Smith's comments on the people of Antioch celebrating the Civil War Centennial are insulting, entirely misleading, and inaccurate. First, I would suggest that he look up the words "celebrate" and "celebration" in Webster, or talk to any priest that celebrates Mass on Sunday. Obviously, Mr. Smith will be surprised by the definitions given. While he's at it, he might look up "centennial," which is defined as "the hundredth anniversary of any event or the CELEBRATION thereof."

Your reporter says that for three days the people of Antioch are to have dancing, band concerts, a beard growing contest, swimming contests, and what not. The only dance scheduled is the 48th annual Volunteer Fire Dept. dance which has been traditionally held on the last Saturday in June these many years. No swimming contests are on the program. I would like to ask Mr. Smith what is disrespectful about growing a beard or having a square dance exhibition or a band concert. He neglected to mention some of the worthwhile projects such as an essay contest for students, a Civil War Art Show, a garden show, a centennial book containing much detailed Antioch and Lake County history, and a production, "Antioch to Appomattox" which traces the progress of the War and its impact on the American people, through narration and Civil War music. Many projects were turned down by this committee as being undignified or too commercial.

Mr. Smith says never celebrate a calamity such as a war. He misses the point completely. We are not celebrating this brutal conflict in which a half million men died, including thirty-six from Antioch, but are commemorating and recognizing an era, and an event that was, as Bruce Catton said "the most significant thing in the entire drama of American History, and one that has affected the lives of every American since." As is the practice of most debunkers, Mr. Smith has obviously not taken the trouble to check facts.

We are proud that our small community has seen fit to commemorate this decisive period in a state which should, but has not done much to observe this national centennial. We feel American history is important to all of us, especially our children. We think that this type of lazy and inaccurate reporting does a disservice to your fine newspapers and its readers.

Yours very truly,

James W. Kopriva M.D.

Chairman, Antioch Civil War Centennial Committee.

That Old Payola

Antioch has been the subject of pros and cons concerning the rackets charge hurled recently by Attorney General Robert Kennedy in testimony before the House Judiciary Committee meeting recently in Washington.

Young Robert is brash and bold and we hope he succeeds in his joust with organized crime — the so-called Syndicate. And he has his work cut out for him.

Just to cite a few examples of how they work and how they will continue to work — less than two hours drive from here.

Once, some 8-10 years ago, there was a railroad gateman. At the going rate at that time, he might have been pushing 70 bucks a week, and that's stretching a point. Well, he ran for mayor. Within a month after being elected, he retired from his gateman's position and did nothing else in earning a livelihood (so it seemed) for the next eight years except serve as mayor on his $1800 per year salary, as established by village edict.

He didn't run again after his second term, choosing, instead, to retire to his very, very plush home and fine cars. His cut for opening up the town ran over $5,000 per month while he was in office.

Another official, newly elected in the early 50's, played ball and opened up his town. His reputed take — $10,000 each and every month.

But he received his come uppance. Seems the local pressure mounted and he was forced to raid one of the places in the face of public outcry. But he forgot one thing — he didn't notify the powers that be.

The raid went off and the joint was closed down. Nothing was said or done, and his payments continued through the months — 40,000 big iron men each and every month.

Came summer and he and the missus decided on an extended vacation. They returned some weeks later, well tanned and rested. He was ready to resume his mayoral duties.

Horror! On entering his home he found that every piece of furniture, every rug, every stitch of clothing and all similar had been ripped to shreds. Wallpaper had been torn from walls, utilities had been smashed.

Nothing was said. No personal violence was done. He filed no complaints, made no outcry. He had received notice.

"Repent, ye. Go and sin no more." Here's how the old approach goes. A newly-elected official may be approached on assuming office by several neatly appearing businessmen. They have a proposition.

"So nice of you to call."

"Here's our proposition."

"We want to open up one or two minor spots about town — you know — a parlor for a bit of offhand wagering, maybe a little crap. Nothing ostentatious, loud or vulgar."

"In return we give you each and every month 1000 fish on the barrel-head, all cash, placed in your own sweet little hand. Now in addition we will also kick into the kitty a second contribution of 1000 clams for you to devote to village affairs. Run it through your accounts anyway you see fit."

"This is a straight business proposition. No obligation, no ties. Just let us bring in two small operations."

If the one approached refuses and they feel he is sincere, the salesmen depart after a brief handshake and farewell.

No harsh words, no admonitions, no violence. That's it. They'll wait it out until the administration changes. There's always a live one along the line.

If he seems on the edge, the salesmen will return again a second time and a third, until the approached official swallows his conscience and the grease, or until they are convinced he is on the level and can't be had.

That's it. Crime is organized. The gang killings went out with the "untouchables."

Let one monkey get rough and make a public hue and cry and his own boys will take care of him.

No more sharp pearl grey hats and spaghetti and meatballs.

This is a billion-dollar business and it takes business brains and finesse to operate. The old soft sell, the old payola.

That's what Herr Kennedy is referring to.

Village President Murrill Cunningham says there's nothing organized in town, and we'll go along with that, give or take a bit of off-hand poker over an occasional bottle of beer.

In fact, we used to shoot a little crap ourselves back behind the school house in days of yore. And even managed with one dice after we could add in a hurry.

No, we have nothing personally against a bit of penny pitching, or a farthing or two on which way the wind will blow at any given time.

And we wouldn't be at all surprised if some of the school lads — and for that matter their elders, too — occasionally uncorked the wallet to ante up.

Remember, however, we're talking about Antioch.

Now, you take Lake County, and all bets are off.

Cook is wide open — girls, booze, games — you name it. And we wouldn't be at all surprised if, and mind you, we said "if," a little of the nasty habits of our southern neighbors have crept over the line.

Bear in mind, there can be no organized operation without payola and cooperation of officials... excluding, of course, the two-bit operations which are always strictly fly-by-night affairs that die a timely death.

Gambling, bless us, like girls, will probably always be around.

Public Health Service Aired

Should bedside nursing care be a part of the total service offered by the public health nurse, was the topic for discussion at a meeting held recently. The meeting was sponsored by the Lake County Health Department. Mrs. Maria Coburn, R.N., is director of Nursing Services of the health department.

During the meeting it was stated that the need for a bedside nursing care program has been recognized and in order to further determine what continuing care would be needed when patients were discharged from hospitals a pilot study has been conducted. This pilot study was done by the Lake County Health Department in cooperation with Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville.

There have been 26 patients referred to the health department thus far during the study. The average age of the patients referred excluding six infants was 65. At the present time health department nurses are still visiting 12 of the patients. Three of the patients have deceased and five of the patients are no longer receiving visits because they no longer need care. Only one of the patients has been re-hospitalized.

The health department nurses made 197 visits to the patients. The average number of visits to each patient was 7 1/2 times. In reviewing the study, Mrs. Coburn said that while this was primarily a teaching program, three of the 26 patients have received continuous care and of these three, all have received injections, one's visits were terminated only because of death, one's visits were terminated due to re-hospitalization, and one is still being visited.

During the meeting, discussion was also given to providing funds for a bedside nursing program. Illinois legislation does not permit a board of health to charge for services given to the people of the county. Legally such service could only be provided for and fees collected by another agency from whom the board of health could contract for service. Money obtained from such an agency could thus be used to provide additional nursing staff for the health department.

In an effort to further study the mechanics of organization, methods of interpreting the service to the communities, fund raising, cost of service and number of nurses needed to carry out a bedside nursing program, the next meeting of the group will be highlighted by a presentation by Mrs. William Dunning, president of the Board of the DuPage County Community Nursing Service.

Interested citizens present at the meeting included Mrs. R. Clemenson of Long Lake, Mrs. William Hille of Barr, Mrs. Robert Kleckhefer of Barr, Mrs. Spencer Shaw of Waukegan, Arthur G. Baker, M.D., director of the health department, and Mrs. Coburn.

Mrs. Jessie Runyard and Mrs. Nel Runyard accompanied Mrs. Elizabeth Eaton to Rockford on Monday. Mrs. Emilie Johnston returned to the Eastern Star Home at Rockford. Mrs. Eleanor Norris and Mrs. Nel Runyard were Kenosha shoppers on Tuesday.

Mrs. Grace Miller accompanied her daughter and grandson, Mrs. Andrew Tuft and Edward, to Madison on Tuesday. They returned on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gauger of Florida called at the Charles Oetting home on Sunday afternoon. They will reside in Wilmet during the coming summer.

Karl and Gail Oetting of Lake Villa spent the week-end with their grandparents, the Charles Oettings.

On Thursday, the third, fourth, fifth and sixth graders of the Trevor Graded school went by bus to visit the Field Museum and Lincoln Park zoo in Chicago. The teachers in charge were Mrs. Edwin Kuska and Mrs. Marie Brenton. Also escorting the group were the Meses. Radsdell, Smock, Mate, Schultz and Mittlevic.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Anderson of Kenosha spent Sunday with the Ronald Vos family.

The Trevor School picnic was held Sunday at the Fox River Park for the children and families.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilen toured Lillacia Park in Lombard, Ill., Sunday afternoon. The many varieties of lilacs, tulips and pansies were in full bloom.

About 1,300 persons were killed and another 3,200 injured last year at railroad grade crossings, according to the Chicago Motor Club. The club warned both motorists and pedestrians to observe safety regulations at these danger areas.

Matthew C. Sielski, director of the club's safety and traffic engineering department, said most grade crossings provide devices such as warning lights, bells, wig-wag signals, or portable gates, and that the motorist or pedestrian who disobeys them is inviting disaster.

"A majority of grade crossing accidents are the result of inattention or excessive speed," Sielski pointed out. "For example, some drivers fail to check whether a train is coming before they start to cross the tracks. In some cases, motorists are going too fast to stop in time once they see the warning sign," he said.

"Sometimes drivers start across a multiple-track crossing after one train has passed, only to be struck by a train on another track," he added.

Sielski listed the following safety tips for railroad grade crossings:

1. Approach crossings at reduced speed and be ready to stop.
2. Watch for and obey all grade crossing signs and signals.
3. Look both ways before crossing.
4. When necessary, come to complete stop and check the crossing thoroughly before proceeding. This is especially advisable under adverse driving conditions.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

CONTROL OF INFECTION

By William Kitzay
Member, National Assn. of Science Writers, Editor, All About Babies
When it comes to the care of the baby, there's one thing all physicians are agreed upon—cleanliness and sterilization are vitally necessary.

Dr. David B. Coursin, chief of pediatrics and director of research at St. Joseph Hospital in Lancaster, Pa., in a recent discussion of the subject, points out why.

"There is always," says Dr. Coursin, "the danger of infection through known and new strains of bacteria, both in hospitals and in the community. Some such strains, as staphylococci, are potential hazards to both baby and the family. Adults have been known to be carriers with resulting infection of the child as well as the establishment of a source of infection for other members of the family."

"This is why, in handling the infant and the child, your hands must be clean and your potential sources of infection sterilized. The prophylactic measures that may reduce the incidence of infection, are the most important personal and public health steps you can take in the fight against infection."

Dr. Coursin believes that an important key to the control of infection is the diaper. He says that its absolute cleanliness is imperative, and that the sterilized diaper "is by far the safest answer to this problem."

"The scientifically processed diaper as produced by the diaper service industry," says Dr. Coursin, "is most important to the infant's health and in the public control of infection. It arrives soft and sterile, does not cause skin irritation and infection and leaves the household—removing a potential hazard to both baby and family."

"In contrast to the scientifically-processed diaper, home facilities for processing diapers are limited. What is more, there are three possible hazards in the home environment."

"1—The wash process may be inadequate to remove all bacteria and viruses so that the infant wearing the diaper may be exposed to infection."

"2—The diaper may be washed with other garments, either baby's or those of other members of the family, making possible spread of infecting organisms to other clothing and other people."

"3—Repeated handling of infected diapers by the mother keeps her constantly exposed to them as reservoirs of infection."

It is because of these factors, Dr. Coursin says, that the scientifically processed diaper "is by far the safest answer" to some of the problems of infection that are besetting babies today.

My father isn't going to grow a beard because he won't look good with one. I haven't heard about it for a long time I only heard about it once and that was when my father said he wasn't going to grow a beard. I wonder if my baby brother could dress up too. I don't think my mother heard about the Centennial because she didn't even say a word about it. Practically every body is getting old-fashioned clothes to wear when the Centennial comes.

On the day of the Centennial the men has to have a beard on their face and the women has to dress like they did 100 yrs. ago. I wonder why the children can't be in it. Brown is growing a beard because he is going to be in it and I wish I could be in it too. But I just can't understand why children can't be in it. It's a Breeze To Enclose Breezeway

When a family begins to out-grow its house, its members have three choices: continue to live in cramped surroundings, move into a bigger home, or expand the house.

Today, thousands of home owners lucky enough to have a porch or breezeway are finding new space by enclosing these areas.

This type of expansion usually is the most inexpensive of all. There's rarely a need for costly foundation building, and the roof generally is in place along with one or two walls.

Often much, if not all, of the work can be done by the home owner himself if he's handy with tools. This eliminates the most expensive item in remodeling—labor.

Today's home handyman has a tremendous advantage in his do-it-yourself home improvement projects: modern building materials.

Among these are windows of ponderosa pine, ideal for porch and breezeway enclosures. They are available in complete units with frame and sash pre-assembled at the factory, and with hardware and weatherstripping installed.

All the home handyman has to do is lift the unit into its opening, make sure it's shimmed and level, then nail it in place.

This ease of installation results in savings even when the job is done by a professional. The units go in place quickly, reducing the cost of labor.

Other modern building materials that can make a porch or breezeway enclosure a complete do-it-yourself project include mineral wool insulation, floor and ceiling tiles, wall paneling, and tough, new paints that dry free of brush marks.

TWO ILLINOIS BELL telephone operators received service awards for perfect attendance in informal ceremonies last week at the local headquarters. Mrs. Irene Noble, chief operator, presented the service pins to (left to right) Mrs. Lena Messing, for five years perfect attendance, and Mrs. Mary Novotny, six years. At right is Mrs. Lillian Gray, group chief operator.

Centennial Planning Enters Final Stage as Date Draws Nearer

Final planning for Antioch's Civil War Centennial observance proceeded at a quickened pace this week as the steering committee entered final stages of arrangements for the three-day event, June 23-25.

Competing with a full schedule which Dr. J. W. Kopriva, planning chairman, estimates will be largest observance of its type in northern Illinois, will be an all-day flower exhibit and art display at the high school June 24. The events are being sponsored by the Antioch Garden Club and the Antioch Republican Women's Club.

During the morning of June 24, winners of an essay contest on the Civil War period will be announced by the State Bank of Antioch, sponsors. The contest is open to all pupils fifth grade and above.

Rounding out Saturday activities will be a movie at 2 p.m., "Uncle Tom's Cabin," at the grade school, to be shown through courtesy of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Local theatres plan showings of "Friendly Persuasion" and "Gone With the Wind," in keeping with local events.

The Antioch Woman's Club, one of the Centennial sponsoring organizations, will hold an old-fashioned ice cream social at the fire station in the afternoon.

The village will be decorated in the spirit of the occasion and businessmen and residents will be dressed in costumes of the period.

Your State Senator Reports

By State Sen. Robert McClory

Political deals are not necessarily corrupt or shady. The ordinary deal effectuated in the Illinois General Assembly involves nothing more than an agreement to deliver a given number of votes on one legislative bill in exchange for a comparable number of votes on another bill.

In those cases where the two measures involved in such a "deal" promote the public good, the parties making the deal have rendered a public service. But, if, as usually happens, the bills both serve special or selfish interests, the deal is to be condemned.

The exchanging or trading of votes is undoubtedly one of the most prevalent political practices in the state and national legislatures. When practiced with respect to sectional or partisan interests, it is condoned under the description of "log rolling." Sometimes it is put more bluntly in the expression, "You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours."

In an ideal situation all legislative measures would be considered on their own merits, and after being thus considered, they should be passed or defeated. But that ideal is neither realistic nor practical. Of course, it is obvious that no deal of any kind should affect the members' votes on such moral issues as "legalized" bingo—or "illegal" pin-ball devices. But with respect to many other measures, the public is not apt to misunderstand a deal for votes on a bill.

Let me suggest one "political deal" which the public would applaud. It requires the votes by the Chicago Democratic members of the Illinois House and Senate in favor of Senate Joint Resolution No. 21, the proposed new Judicial Article to the State Constitution. In return, the Republican members of

76 to Graduate From Grade School

Commencement exercises for 76 Antioch Grade School graduates will be held at 8 p.m. today in the school auditorium.

Opening the program will be the grade school band, followed by the invocation by the Rev. Wallace Anderson and welcome by Norman S. Jede, board of education president.

W. Richard Whitacre, superintendent, will present the main speaker, the Rev. L. H. Messersmith.

W. C. Petty, Lake County superintendent of schools, will present the diplomas. The Rev. Wallace Anderson will give the benediction.

A pre-graduation party for students, parents and teachers was held last week.

The first recorded use of gas in warfare was during the siege of Plataea, Greece, when the Spartans used it against the Athenians. It is thought the gas was produced by burning wood, sulphur, and pitch, to create clouds of choking, poisonous fumes.

House Without Cooling Obsolete in Few Years

If you plan to build a home, here's something to keep in mind: A house without air conditioning will be as obsolete in a few years as a house without a bathroom is today.

This means that even if you don't plan to install air conditioning right away, you'd be wise to spend a little extra for proper mineral wool in walls, ceilings, and floors when you build.

It'll be there to give you economical operation when you decide you can afford a cooling system. Meanwhile the extra insulation will make your house more comfortable as well as help reduce heating costs.

The Greeks used a suffocating incendiary mixture in warfare from 600 B.C. on. It was called Greek Fire, the composition is suspected but not known, and seemed to work wonders when it came to demoralizing the enemy.

Napoleon escaped from Elba the same week that Lincoln celebrated his sixth birthday. His defeat at Waterloo came four months later.

A teacher is like a candle—each consumes themselves in giving light to others.

The power of the Lord was with Him to heal.—(Luke 5:17).

What is true for us is true for the persons for whom we pray. God's will of harmony and health governs them. We can speak words of healing for all who are in need, and we can expect to see a quick, permanent response.

'Drop-In' Ranges Look Built-In, Can Be Moved

A new, "drop-in" electric range now on the market is ideal for families who want to improve their kitchens without major renovations.

These new electric ranges provide the built-in look without costly carpentry and cabinetry, and are as mobile as a free-standing range. This means the housewife who grows fond of her new electric range won't have to worry about leaving it behind if the family moves.

Many models of the new "drop-in" unit fit neatly between cabinets or other appliances, resting on a low, recessed toe-molding. Some others also are designed to hang on the wall.

All have the fine engineering and automatic devices that make even good cooks cook better electrically.

If your building or remodeling plans call for an automatic electric dishwasher, make sure it will be supplied with hot water—at least 140 degrees.

Today's electric dishwashers scour dishes, pots, pans, and utensils with repeated jets of water and detergent, then rinse them several times.

This action, using adequately hot water, insures hygienically clean table and cooking ware that protects family health.

SIDELIGHTS from SPRINGFIELD

By Rep. PAUL SIMON

Many citizens are being bombarded with multi-colored brochures pointing out the advantages which branch banking will give Illinois.

The facts of the matter are that branch banking may have a little to offer the citizens of the state—but it has more disadvantages than advantages. The chief beneficiaries of the proposal will be a few big banks in Chicago, although a few others are supporting it.

The basic question the legislature faces: Is it wise to concentrate economic power in fewer and fewer hands?

I think the answer is "no." These financial giants already have too much power and I don't plan to vote for them any more.

The argument is used that many areas and communities are without adequate banking services. In some cases this may be true. If the proposal were to allow small banks to establish branch banks I would have no opposition. But the basic purpose of this legislation is not to help these communities. This legislation did not originate in these communities, but in the offices of the bank barons.

What arguments do they use in favor of the legislation? They have four points:

1—"Convenient, one-stop banking service."

The answer: the average small bank offers this already.

2—"Ready availability of credit. Many banks do not have the financial resources to meet the full credit needs of local businesses."

The answer: This is true. It may be that a local bank cannot offer loans on printing equipment, a business I am in, for example. But when unusual credit requirements are there—and this is rare—we can go to a larger bank. This is really a small inconvenience.

3—"Lower cost service."

The answer: Don't believe it. I live in a small community of 1800 people with a bank with assets of not more than one million dollars. A quick check shows that banking service charges are smaller in our bank than in the banks promoting this legislation.

4—"Community economic growth." The answer: I simply don't believe that a Chicago or large-city bank coming into an area will do more for that community than a bank owned and operated by citizens who live in a community.

It is difficult to say what will happen on this legislation. Two years ago it was defeated, but this session the same forces are back, much stronger. In the meantime, they have modified the bill and also convinced some of the people that branch banking is needed.

When Abraham Lincoln was a member of the legislature of Illinois the biggest fights were over banking policies.

More than 100 years later we're still fighting over bank legislation.

One of my friends told me: "You have to be realistic, Paul. The day of the small grocer and the small farmer are past. Small business is nice for the textbooks, but does not fit our modern society. The small bank will have to go, too. This is the day of the big banking operation. Illinois should not stay in the dark ages."

Maybe he's right, but I don't think so.

I still think there's something fundamentally healthy about not concentrating power. Maybe I'm living in a dream world, but I like the idea of a small businessman, whether he's a farmer, grocer—or banker.

THE LAW

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF
ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION
IN COOPERATION WITH THE NEWSPAPER

The Complex Law of Checks

Mary Evans drew a $6 check, payable to "Cash," and used it to pay for some groceries. When the bank returned the check with the monthly bank statement, Mary was shocked to find that someone had raised the amount to $60. She told her husband John, and he immediately notified the bank of the alteration.

A quick investigation established that the bank had cashed the check, and had paid $60, so that the alteration was made before the check was presented for payment by the unknown defrauder.

Several days later, John discovered that another of the checks returned with the bank statement was a complete forgery. It was apparent that an impostor had drawn a check for $100 on John's bank, and had signed John's name to it. John called the bank again to tell them of the second fraud, and again he was told that the bank had paid the full amount of the check.

Bank Takes the Loss

Do you know the state of accounts between the Evans and their bank? Many people are surprised to learn that under Illinois law the bank cannot charge the Evans for money it paid by reason of the frauds.

As to the $100 forgery, the law required the bank to know the signature of its own depositors, and this duty prevails as against the most clever forgeries. Since John was a depositor, the bank wrongfully paid the check.

As to Mary's $6 check, which was raised to $60, Illinois provides that the bank must pay checks drawn on it according to the original "tenor" of the instrument—the amount for which the check was originally drawn.

Under Illinois law, the Evans could not recover from the bank if more than one year elapsed from the time the cancelled checks were returned to them before they notified the bank of the raising and forgery.

What Is a Check?

A check is simply a written order directed to a bank to pay a stated sum of money to the person named in the check. The one who writes and signs the check is called the "drawer," the bank that is to pay the money is the "drawee," and the person named to receive the money is called the "payee." If you sign on the back of the check you are known as an "endorser."

Some checks are almost the same as cash, and if lost can be negotiated by anyone who obtains possession. For example, checks payable to "Cash," or which are endorsed with the payee's signature, and nothing else, are almost equivalent to cash. They can be negotiated without endorsement, and it is easy for unauthorized persons to cash them.

For this reason, it is wise to draw checks to "Cash" only when you are ready to use them, and to wait to endorse checks you receive until you are prepared to cash them.
For example, if a check is made payable to you and you want to send it by mail write on the back words such as "Pay to John Jones," and then sign your name beneath. By doing this, the check cannot be validly transferred unless Jones' signature is endorsed on the check.

It is always the safest procedure to draw and endorse checks to a named person. If you want to deposit in your bank account a check made payable to you, write "For deposit only" above your signature.
Having done this, you can safely mail the check to your bank, and the money can be credited only to your account.

Certified Checks

Many business transactions are closed on the basis of a certified check, so that the parties are certain the check is good. When a check is presented for certification, the bank looks at the drawer's account to ascertain whether there are sufficient funds to cover the check.
Then, money is set aside from the account in a special fund for the payment of that particular check.

Although most of us use checks from day to day, few realize the complicated character of what the lawyers call "the law of negotiable instruments" . . .

This column is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney.
Even a slight difference in the facts may change the result under the law.

Cheer Up! Life's Worth Living

By Mrs. Pearl Kapell

Are you one of those unfortunate people who is always "the picture of health"?

The average person, when he's sick, looks terrible. His friends tell him so. It confirms his own feeling of illness, he gets sympathy, and he can relax and be sick in comfort.

But what of the poor, unfortunate individual who, though feeling as though he may be approaching his death-bed, still presents on appearance of blooming well-being? If friends have heard he is ill, they meet him with surprised looks and remarks like, "Well, You're looking fine. Thought I heard you were sick." You protest that you are indeed, sick. You feel terrible. You hurt here, and here and here. You see that look creeping into your friend's face. That look of disbelief that says, "Boy, is he a hypochondriac!"

If you're a woman, it's useless to try to convince anyone you're really ill. Everyone will tell you it's nerves, you don't have enough to occupy your mind, or you don't work hard enough. Someone will be sure to tell you, when you're marshaling the last ounce of your feeble strength to stand up, that what you need is some good, rousing exercise in the open air. That'll cure all your ills! At the moment you feel as though you'd drop dead if you took a deep breath. In fact, you kind of wish you would. And you certainly wish your cheerful, advice-giving friends would.

One of the most infuriating experiences, to the always-healthy-looking woman, is to be thrown into contact with one of those "born sickly" women. Since childhood, she has glided through life looking as though she's not long for this world. Blessed with an appearance of delicate fragility, her obvious inability to lift anything heavier than her finger brings every male rushing to her assistance. Beneath that delicate exterior are bones of steel, muscles of whang leather and a whim of iron. "Always ailing, never failing" she floats through life swamped with sympathy and ministered to by people not nearly so strong as she but endowed with that healthy look. She outlives all of them. And everyone sympathizes with her and marvels at her survival.

Can you get any of that sympathy? Certainly not. You're fat, and red-cheeked. And sturdy-looking. Quit feeling sorry for yourself and get to work.

Sooner or later you go to the doctor to find out what's wrong. You're cheered by the thought that here, at last, you'll find a person who knows sickness when he sees it. You'll be able to tell your skeptical family what's wrong. Maybe he'll even tell you to go to bed.

You feel out of place in the waiting room. Everyone looks so sick. When you finally get to see the doctor, he looks at you in surprise, as though wondering why you should be there. You tell him how badly you feel. He doesn't look impressed. After a cursory examination, he asks you a few questions about the state of your mental well-being. You start to get angry, and assure him your trouble is not mental. He looks dubious, and points out that nerves and aggravation can produce all sorts of symptoms. And finally prescribes a tranquilizer. Or a sedative.

You wish you didn't have to go home and report. You feel like crying. But what's the use? Can you weep gracefully, with delicate, round tears sliding down your pale cheeks? Certainly not. You snort, and snuffle, and hiccup, and your nose runs, and your face swells up and looks splotchy, and your healthy red cheeks get even redder. No one could possibly look at you and feel sorry for you.

There's really only one way you can vindicate yourself and prove to everyone that there's really something wrong with you. Die. It's rather an extreme measure, and even this is not sure-fire. Someone's sure to remark that you just thought yourself into a decline. Even if a post-mortem revealed a ruptured appendix, your friends would be rather skeptical.

Science and make-up manufacturers have really missed a good bet here. A make-up to make you look as bad as you feel. Or sort of a lie-detector pill. One you could swallow, that would immediately reveal to all eyes what's wrong with you. What tremendous advertising possibilities! "Swallow one of Dr. Hubert's sick pills. If you have liver trouble, you'll turn green. Turn blue for heart trouble. Do you have a headache? A little man clashing cymbals will spring up on your forehead."

Until the happy day arrives when you can prove you're sick, you might as well quit looking for sympathy. You're not going to get it.

Cong. Church Gets ACA Service Award

Representative Marguerite Stitt Church of the 13th district of Illinois, today received the Distinguished Service Award of "Americans for Constitutional Action," popularly known as "ACA." The award was presented by Admiral Ben Moreell, USN (Retired), Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

"ACA is a non-partisan, non-profit, political-action and educational group which was organized in late 1958."

The Distinguished Service Award of ACA was established to honor

Senators and Representatives whose voting records during the past several years have been substantially in support of legislation which, in the opinion of ACA, would serve to sustain, strengthen and defend the spirit and principles of the Constitution of the United States, as these were defined by the Founding Fathers of our Republic.

In conferring the Distinguished Service Award, Admiral Moreell said, in part: "Congresswoman Church, on behalf of the Board of Trustees, it gives me great pleasure to bestow upon you the Distinguished Service Award of Americans for Constitutional Action."

"Your voting record on vital issues which have a bearing upon the integrity of the Constitution of the United States has earned for you this recognition as a distinguished American Statesman (and) public servant."

Lindenhurst News

By Mrs. Bernice Bernau
Editor 6-5449

LINDENHURST—The Altar and Rosary Society of the Prince of Peace Church in Lake Villa will receive Holy Communion Sunday at 8 a.m. Mass. Installation of officers will take place at their meeting Wednesday, June 7, at 8 p.m.

A public meeting will be held by the Lindenhurst Men's Club Thursday night in the basement of the new Civic Center starting at 8 p.m. There is no roof or floor over this part of the building, but will press emergency measures into use should it rain. They will have a regular business meeting and show a film entitled "Rhapsody of Steel."

Paul Wright, president, has appointed Dr. J. Laurich as medical officer of the Men's Club. He will handle medical problems during the construction of the Civic Center.

Lyle Mercer is chairman of the Block Party.

Masons living in Lindenhurst are asked to help with the cement and brick work. All labor is being furnished free by the Lindenhurst Men's Club with Sept. 1 set as the date for the completion of the building.

Two affairs are reserved already, the Lindenhurst Women's Club rummage sale the 16th of September and the Hawaiian Luau, probably the 30th.

"The Carousers" met at Mrs. Dorothy Golden's home last Tuesday evening to play Po-Keeno. The ladies present were Miss Shirley Heidner, Mesdames Carol Roth, Lorraine Grant, Dorothy Smith, Marie Anderson and guest, Marie Ellen Kell (sister of Mrs. Anderson) who had a baby the week before. Mrs. Kell is in the process of building a home in Grandwood.

Brownie Troop No. 128 of Lindenhurst met at the B. J. Hooper School Tuesday. Mrs. Raymond Clafy, leader, invested 31 girls and pinned five adults. They were Mrs. Richard Zegan and Mrs. Simile Shepard, co-leaders. Mrs. Richard Wells, Mrs. Richard Wolff and Mrs. Henry Pierce, committee workers.

Mrs. Pierce spoke to the girls and mothers about the Day Camp to be held at Shoreland Park at Third Lake, June 20-23 and 27-30. Seventeen girls are registered to attend.

There will be a work-shop meeting for all mothers at Mrs. Zegan's home on Sand Lake Road, Thursday to exchange handicraft ideas.

Mrs. Harold Sokup, Mrs. Ed Bonevitz, Mrs. Barr and Mrs. Robert Buksas are area consultants. Their immediate job is to contact Prince of Peace School and Lake Villa Grade School and B. J. Hooper School to see how many girls are not in Brownies and would like to be.

They hope to start a Senior Girl Scout Troop in Lake Villa and an Intermediate Troop at B. J. Hooper.

Troop No. 128 will meet every Tuesday this summer at the B. J. Hooper School, Mrs. Clafy reports.

Twelve boys were admitted to the Lindenhurst Junior Police Club last week in a meeting at the Hooper school. Membership is now closed for three months.

Several boys received promotion: Section Lieutenants—Louie Meglio and Bill Kaub; Lieutenant of the Records—Bill Bernau; Section Sergeant—Leonard Clark; Squad Leaders—Anthony LaBarbera, Richard Vitek, Larry Davis and Phil Jackson.

There will be a fishing contest for the boys later this month. They will fish in Lake Michigan. The fathers are invited to accompany their sons.

In June the meetings will be on their regular schedule, the first and third Tuesday of the month. June 6 will be the next meeting.

The Tony Drago family of 1803 Elmwood Drive attended a family reunion on Mrs. Drago's side of the family, Sunday, May 21, at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Filpi, in Chicago. Thirty-two relatives were there for supper. It was their first reunion in a year and a half.

Mrs. Raymond Caldwell of 2118 East Old Elm Road was called by "Quiz the Mrs." last Wednesday morning, but didn't have that recipe handy, so missed out on $8.

Residents of Lindenhurst are invited to a meeting Friday at 8 p.m. at the Lake Villa Rescue Hall to organize a protest meeting for personal property taxes. Invite your neighbor to go with you. It concerns everyone of you.

Grant Seeks Leaders for Adult Course

The Adult Education Department at Grant Community High School would like to add a Great Books course to its curriculum next fall. It is necessary for a qualified instructor to lead the group.

Any individual interested in leading these classes may contact Mr. David Schmid, director of the Adult Evening Classes. A short training period began last week.

The offering of the course at Grant next year is contingent to a great extent in securing qualified leaders for the course. Instructors in the course would receive a fee for leadership services.

1,500 Hungry Scouts Take a Lot of Chow

What do 1,500 hungry Boy Scouts eat?

It's quite a lot, according to Charles Gribble, director of Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan for the North Shore Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, which owns and operates the camp near Antigo, Wis.

The 1,500 boys are the number who will attend the camp this summer during the eight weeks the camp is in operation. They'll be served a total of 75,000 meals by the camp kitchen staff, if last year's figures are any indication of what this summer's chow consumption will be.

This includes 5,000 gallons of milk, 4,500 loaves of bread, 5,000 hot dog buns to wrap around 23 miles of hot dogs, 5,000 hamburger buns and between 5,000 and 6,000 pound of beef. Of course, this isn't all they'll eat. There has to be a lot of vegetables, flapjacks, and eggs to provide a balanced diet.

All this seems to add up to what boys like. Even though the first camp period doesn't start until June 29, more than 1,300 Scouts from throughout the North Shore Area Council territory have already registered to attend camp.

NEXT WINTER --

... with automatic
delivery service

We'll divide your total estimated heating bill for a normal season into equal monthly payments, eliminating the problem of large fuel bills during the colder winter months. This makes good sense—particularly by easing the strain during the holidays when other expenses are apt to be heavy. At the end of the payment period, we tally up. If you have paid for more fuel than delivered, you'll receive a prompt refund. If you burned more oil than anticipated, you are billed for the balance. And, when you need fuel, metered delivery is made automatically without reminder or effort on your part. Think of an easier way to buy the cleanest heat-comfort available for your home?

Lake Forest High Honors Athletes

Lake Forest High's athletes were honored last week at the annual all-sports banquet when letters were awarded to 108 varsity players.

Leading the list were three students who won three varsity letters—Jack Wilson, Joel Elserman and Bob White.

Elserman was co-captain of the (football) team and also played basketball and basketball. Wilson and White earned letters in football, wrestling and track.

Guest speaker was John Erickson, former Lake Forest College basketball coach and now coach mentor at the University of Wisconsin.

Many things are not what they seem: for example, German Silver is neither German nor silver—Cleopatra's Needles were not produced by or for or during the lifetime of Cleopatra—Baffin Bay is not a bay—The Holy Roman Empire was neither Holy, nor Roman, nor an Empire.

Truelsen Sets Two Records, Ties a Third

Leads Team To Third in NWSC Meet

Two conference records were shattered and one tied last week by Ken Truelson in one of the outstanding individual track performances of the year.

The Antioch speedster cracked the 100 and 200 dash marks in record time and romped home in the 180 low hurdles in :20.2 to equal the record he set a year ago.

Truelson's time in the 100 was a fast :10.1, one-tenth off the old mark of :10.2 set by Don Reinhofer of Round Lake in 1959. He then bettered his own record in the 200 with a :22.3 effort, four-tenths of a second off his earlier mark.

Paced by Truelson, Antioch triad-clad copped five firsts in the Northwestern Suburban Conference track and field meet at Lake Forest, but Grayslake and Lake Forest had too much depth in edging the locals. Grayslake won with 5, Lake Forest was second with 47, and Antioch third with 32. They were followed by Grant 23½, Warren, 20½, Elaverson 15½, Wauconda 15½, and Round Lake 1.

Other firsts for Antioch were won by Ken Weber, pole vault, and Lance Keisler, broad jump.

Here are the summaries:
120 High hurdles: 1, Dwight Adams, Wauconda; 2, Moran, Grayslake; 3, Moils, Grayslake; 4, Blackzak, Grant; 5, Elliott, Antioch. Time :15.3.

100 Yard Dash: 1, Ken Truelson, Antioch; 2, Kreischer, Lake Forest; 3, Tucker, Lake Forest; 4, Barkules, Elaverson; 5, Beicher, Elaverson. Time :10.1 (new record; old record :10.2 by Don Reinhofer, Round Lake, 1959).

880-Yard Run, 1, John Matthiesen, Grayslake; 2, Hodge, Grant; 3, Daniels, Lake Forest; 4, Keenan, Lake Forest; 5, Ledvina, Grayslake. Time, 2:03.0.

New Director Plans Water Safety Class

Harold L. Whitehead, presently attending the University of Minnesota, has been appointed director of first aid and water safety of the Lake County chapter of the American Red Cross. Whitehead, on educational leave from the Red Cross to complete work on his master's degree in physical education, has four years' experience as Red Cross field representative in first aid and water safety for the state of Missouri.

Qualified to give instructors courses in both first aid and water safety, he will begin his new duties on June 12 when he starts a two-week water safety instructors course. The class will be held for three hours each week day during the two week period. The location will be determined by the most central facilities available to the greatest number of applicants for the course.

Applicants must be at least 18 years of age and hold a current senior life saving certificate. Interested persons may apply by calling Red Cross headquarters at ON 2-4044, Waukegan. The two-week course will be divided into two parts: techniques used in water safety and teaching methods. Completion of both parts is required to a Red Cross instructor's certificate.

During the summer months, Whitehead will work with organized groups in the safety field and with communities throughout the county in water safety and first aid. He will return to the university in the fall.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

The safe way to enter and leave a car is on the curb side. Far too many motorists make a habit of leaving their cars on the street side and stepping into traffic. Many dangerous and serious accidents occur as a result, because they step right into the path of another automobile.

A motorist who opens his door on the street side is likely to cause an oncoming car to swerve from his line of traffic into the line of traffic from the opposite direction, and he is the direct cause of the accident although unhurt himself.

With many people it's just habit to leave or enter their car on the street side. They don't like to bother to slide across the seat. This indifference has been the cause of many a serious or fatal accident.

Another frequent mishap is a car door swung open into the line of traffic, then smashed back by the oncoming traffic, again with serious consequences to both drivers.

Stay alive and avoid accidents, always enter and leave your car by the curb side.

Antioch Nine Ends Season With 4-1 Victory at Salem

Antioch High's baseball team closed out the 1961 season with a close 4-2 win over Salem Central last week.

The win gave the Sequoias a 5 won-11 lost season record. The locals won 4 and lost 10 in the NW-SC race to wind up in a tie for sixth with Warren and Lake Forest.

Juggling the line-up, Coach Larry Leon gave Sequoit underclassmen a taste of varsity competition.

After Salem had scored once in the last of the second, Antioch jumped into a 2-1 third inning lead by virtue of control trouble by Salem's Lentz.

Enis walked to lead off and advanced on a single by Wojcynski. Pleviak walked to load the bases, and Enis came home when Blackman walked.

Ozga and Lang went down swinging, but a walk to Holm forced in Wojcynski, giving Antioch two.

The locals came back in the fourth for two more when Geist moved to first when struck by a pitched ball, was safe at second on an over-throw by the catcher which was in turn muffed by the center fielder, allowing the runner to come all the way around.

Enis gave an encore scoring in the same manner. He walked, was safe at second on an over-throw which the center fielder again muffed, and sped home for the second run of the inning.

Salem came back for one in the bottom of the fifth to end the scoring.
